SECTION B - POLICY STATEMENT

B.1 Principles

This policy provides the basis for the formulation of detailed strategies for responding to critical incidents in a manner that will:

- deal effectively with the immediate and longer term health, welfare and safety of persons involved in, or affected by, a critical incident
- provide for the effective management and running of SAIBT and CELUSA's daily business in the immediate, short and longer term
- promote effective and appropriate communication to everyone affected
- promote collaborative working relationships within SAIBT and CELUSA and with community agencies as necessary

B.2 Policy

1 Overview

- 1.1 A critical incident may be described as an event that causes normally stable and healthy people to experience strong emotional or psychological distress. It is an event that taxes people's coping ability and has the potential to interfere with their ability to cope at the time or later. A critical incident may occur in Australia or, in the case of an international student, in their country of origin.
- 1.2 A critical incident is often sudden, unexpected and may take many forms, including injury, illness or death of a student, staff or other school community member, accident, injury, fatality, suicide, disappearance, bomb threat, act of violence, sexual assault, hold-up or attempted robbery, damage to property, natural disaster, fire or hazardous material incident (gas chemical, fuel), threat of infectious disease, major theft.
- 1.3 It is very common and normal for people to experience a range of reactions to critical incidents. They need reassurance that these are a normal part of dealing with shock, loss and grief. The signs and symptoms can be cognitive, physical, behavioural or emotional in nature.
- 1.4 It is important that the potential for such incidents to affect individuals and the school community is recognised, understood and managed. Critical incidents require immediate and planned responses.

2 Rationale

- 2.1 The aim of critical incident management guidelines, incorporating disaster/emergency plans, is to provide a framework within which SAIBT and CELUSA can best operate during and immediately after a critical incident. There are a number of vital phases in dealing with critical incidents - preparation & planning, response, recovery, defusing and debriefing.
- 2.2 This policy statement provides the basis for the formulation of detailed strategies for responding to critical incidents in a manner that will:
- deal effectively with the immediate and longer term health, welfare and safety of persons involved in, or affected by, a critical incident
 - provide for the effective management and running of SAIBT and CELUSA's daily business in the immediate, short and longer term
 - promote effective and appropriate communication to all persons affected

- promote collaborative working relationships within SAIBT and CELUSA and with community agencies as necessary
- compliment' existing policies and procedures with respect to first aid, emergency evacuation and work health and safety

3 Standing Critical Incident Management (CIM) Team

3.1 There will be a standing CIM team with authority to co-opt other members of staff as required. The composition of the team must:

- allow for the fact that some incidents will occur outside normal school hours and that not all members will be contactable
- reflect the diversity of programs delivered from the city East and West campuses to both International and Australian students and
- contain the necessary expertise to deal with incidents involving international students whether occurring in Australia or in their country of origin
- abide by any UniSA guidelines or processes for reporting and managing critical incidents

3.2 Appendix 1 of the Critical Incident Procedure lists the CIM membership details and telephone numbers together with the emergency out-of-hours contact number. All staff must ensure they are aware of the emergency number.
